

ARTIST STATEMENT

My current work includes photography, printmaking, and painting, all reflecting my love of nature through the use of color, pattern, and narrative compositions. I am a self-taught artist who has had many teachers. The most important teacher has been nature, the most recent has been the community of artists in Provincetown, MA. In my 17 years there I went from studying with many of the extraordinary artists at the Provincetown Art Association, to being a teacher there myself. My recent relocation to my home state of Maine is opening new creative avenues.
